Artists Open Houses

May 6–29 2023

Welcome to the Artists Open Houses (AOH); with a particularly festive mood in the air this May, AOH offers the opportunity to see work in nearly 200 artists' homes and studios. Several venues are also showing work in their gardens, providing a great day out viewing art indoors and out. Many Open Houses this year are open on the Coronation Bank Holiday Monday, May 8th, presenting an excellent addition or antidote to royal events.

Visiting artists in their homes and studios, viewing art in domestic settings, meeting the artists and makers, hearing about how the work is made and what motivates its makers, is always inspirational. Artists Open Houses embraces the entire community, encompassing all generations, from school students to residents of seniors' centres; from artists just starting out on their careers, to those with national reputations. Several venues include work of students, emerging artists, neuro-diverse and learning-disabled artists. Some offer workshops and events where you can get hands-on and involved.

This year we're partnering with Sussex Nightstops, a community response to youth homelessness in Brighton and Hove that provides safe, welcoming places to stay for young people aged 16-25 who are homeless or at risk of homelessness. Together we are launching an online auction of AOH artists' work; look out for available work in participating Open Houses, bid online and help support this brilliant organisation.

The Artists Open Houses has evolved to be not only the original, but the largest, most respected event of its kind, encompassing the entire city, reaching out to the surrounding villages. Many Open Houses also offer tea and cake in artists' gardens. Explore the city and travel out to the countryside, meeting the artists, buying new artworks for your home. The Artists Open Houses offer a great day out full of inspiration and fun!

Daisy Jordan: 2023 Brochure Cover Artist

Daisy Jordan, the Artists Open Houses May 2023 Brochure Cover Artist, is a visual artist, maker and puppeteer. Daisy was born and raised in Dartford, Kent, and is currently based in Brighton, where she studied Fine Art Painting at the University of Brighton from 2006-2009. She discovered her love for puppets after taking an evening class with artist Isobel Smith shortly after graduating, in which she created a life-sized orangutan complete with bonnet and dress. Since then, she has created and performed in her own puppet shows, often inspired by history and folklore, such as The Sorrowful Tale of Sleeping Sidney, based on the Brighton Chocolate Poisoner.

Daisy has regularly performed, since 2010, as puppeteer and singing waitress at Jane Bom-Bane's cafe in Brighton, which she feels really helped shape her as an artist and performer, and played a big part in directing her path. Storytelling is a very important part of her practice, whether that story be told through a painting, a puppet-show or her cardboard assemblage pieces. Her work tends to explore the boundary between human and 'other', with a particular focus on non-human primates.

For Daisy, our ever-changing relationship with, and perception of, our simian cousins encapsulates our complicated engagement with the natural world in a more general sense. Hovering on the seeming boundary between human and other, monkeys and apes have always provoked in us feelings of fascination and discomfort, and this, as a result, has led to their exploitation. Daisy enjoys playfully exploring this boundary by showing apes and monkeys in 'human' environments, such as the brochure cover piece, Olive Baboons on Rooftops.

Golden Field (Daucus Carota): Daniel J.G.

Paintings by Daniel J.G.

Daniel J.G. is a Brighton-based Deaf artist, originally from Cornwall, making work inspired by the beauty of nature and the positive impact being in nature can have on mental health. Growing up along the coast and living in Brighton for 25 years, Daniel has spent countless hours outside studying the colours, shapes, textures, lighting and forms of the landscape. When painting, Daniel draws on all these visual references and the emotions they evoke to produce abstract compositions rich in meaning.

Daniel says:

"Being outside in the natural world is a huge part of maintaining good mental health for me. Having grown up in a hearing world, prohibited from learning sign language until I was 16, I found solace in the outdoors and developed a deep connection with nature which has been a welcome escape from the isolation I have experienced. I hope to inspire a greater appreciation of the natural world and remind us of our shared humanity and interconnectedness."

Jonny Olsson (1954 – 2023)

Jonny Olsson – AOH Artist, Painter, Printmaker, Parent and Baseball fanatic
A life lived and lost is a point of reflection across a gambit of emotions. An artistic life leaves behind a heritage to wonder, enjoy and treasure.

Jonny Olsson was born 1954 in Helsingborg, Sweden, but moved to Brighton, enrolling as a foreign student at Brighton Art College, in 1977. He began exhibiting during the 1990's in Brighton's wonderful Open House movement, where, in liaison with Susan Zuppinger and with the support of Ned Hoskins, he helped set up the Seven Dials Open House trail. During his Open House years, Jonny collaborated with numerous local artists. In 2011 he returned to the Swedish countryside for his final years, where he continued to paint and hold exhibitions. Jonny leaves two fine sons, Jay and Theo, both sensitive artistic souls, alongside his many treasured paintings.

Veronica Olsson

Art Curator, Leonardslee Gardens

Fiveways celebrates 42 years of opening with 24 venues. As always, we have a wonderful range of houses and businesses showing work of consistently high quality. Vardean School (open one day only; please check their listing) has its annual opening, showing their students' amazing work.

And for refreshments while visiting, don't forget the excellent local pubs and cafés, several of whom have kindly sponsored us.

Ines: Jane Palmer

Jane is showing her latest portraits, local landscapes and exquisite still lifes in oils. We're delighted to welcome two new guests this year: Peter Messer with his idiosyncratic narrative paintings in egg tempera, and Gabrielle Lord with her charcoal life drawings and paintings of the human body. And we're equally pleased to welcome back landscape painter Lucy Bristow, our favourite ceramicist Stef Hunter, and Nigel Hunter who will fill our tranquil back garden with sculptures again.

4 Yvonne Coomber & Friends

57 Washington Street, Brighton BN2 9SR

Give You My Loving, Yvonne Coomber

Yvonne Coomber Painting

Internationally acclaimed artist Yvonne Coomber creates a joyful rainbow drenched dance around the canvas. Full of raw emotion and energy her beautiful collection of kaleidoscopic meadows, dreamy seascapes and tender moorlands are infused with love.

Mike Boyer Painting

Themes of magical realism stream through Mike Boyer's work. His curious parallel worlds are seeped in dark and light reflections with complex layers of narrative. Shadows present in his work are ultimately infused with hope and illuminate the eternal possibility of choice.

Louise Durham Sculpture

Shoreham based artist Louise Durham is a light bringer. Transformational in both interiors and garden environments, Louise's work holds a sacred quality. The combination of hard, organic wood and the delicate, fragile vibrance of glass offer a striking contrast. When the light hits, magic happens.

Neal Grundy/ Lisa Ibbetson

Come and meet Lisa Ibbetson, founder of Mindful Marbling, in her Hanover home studio where you can discover her unique Suminagashi prints and be inspired by the ancient Japanese art of capturing a moment in time.

Lisa takes inspiration from 2,000 year old art of Suminagashi - meaning ink on water - to create and capture fleeting images as they float across the surface of a vat she fills with Brighton seawater. The whole process is a meditation in action and her Open House an oasis of calm.

Night Moves III, Patsy McArthur

Twister, Patsy McArthur

Established figurative artist Patsy McArthur presents a solo exhibition of original drawings and paintings in her Regency home on the seafront. Her work explores the figure in movement, often dealing with themes of escapism and her latest series revisits the wild nights of her youth, losing herself on the dance floor. Her book, new limited edition prints and rarely available sketches from the studio will also be available.

"Often the moments I'm looking to capture are those where we're lost; in movement, in music, in a shard of light, in ourselves."

McArthur has exhibited extensively throughout the UK and internationally over the last 20 years. 2023 sees a major solo show of new charcoal drawings with her London gallery as well as art fairs in the US.

Enjoy her new work in a beautiful light-filled room with incredible views to the sea.

This year, Encounters' artists were asked to reflect on what it means to be an artist today, considering current political and socio-economic challenges. As a response, this edition showcases scaled-down art works that are expansive in ambition but compact in form, making them luggage, thereby widening the opportunity for international artists to mingle with local artists.

Visitors can also enjoy delicious food and opportunities for art classes, performances and live music.

2 The Way of Seeing

CityCoast Centre, North Street, Portslade BN41 1DG

Harbour: Matthew J. Thomas

The light reflecting off water.
The colour and movement of the sky.

Harmony in the seemingly random.

Every watcher finds another point of view.

We warmly invite you to our new exhibition space and café to enjoy an exciting collection of art exploring the way in which we see the world. Our first time opening as part of the AOH Festival and we can't wait to welcome you through our doors.

Matthew looks to capture the extraordinary in the everyday.
With a background in ecology and nature conservation, he has an eye for the beauty to be found in the world around us.
Multi-award winner and lover of the Sussex countryside.

Charmaine's representation of the sky's revolving colours and forms is a symbol of hope in her paintings. She uses impasto techniques to create expressive yet gently flowing sky-scapes with a spectrum of colour.
